Rt. Hon. George Eustice MP

Minister of State for Agriculture,
Fisheries and Food.

Thankyou for your letter to the Prime Minister inviting her to the Black Tie Gala Dinner AFRA (Asian Food and Restaurant awards) 2018. I am replying as the Minister responsible for this policy are, The UK food and drink service sector contributes nearly £33billion in value added to the economy, employing 1.8million people. The curry sector is an important part of that British success story, a terrific industry which meets the consumer needs while at the same time creating jobs, promoting growth, contributing to the UK economy, and raising money for the charities across Britain and around the world.

I hope that your awards ceremony on 31 July is a success, which will recognise the hard work of the British Asian Community.

Rt. Hon. Michael Gove MP

Secretary of State for Environment,
Food and Rural Affairs.

South Asian food is central to Britain's culinary heritage. Every day centuries-old recipes from Bangladesh, India, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka tempt new audiences with their delicate balance of spice and flavour.

"Regardless of when, how or where people come together to eat, curry is always a popular choice. The industry is thriving, with street food pop-ups joining old favourites on the high street. This creates jobs, strengthens our shared culture and boosts local economies.

"My favourite curry houses are without doubt the Princess Cottage in Bagshot and my old local, the Tamarind in Notting Hill. I also have a very specific order - lamb rogan josh with naan bread (no rice), and red wine (no beer). This might be controversial, but when it comes to food and drink we've all got to follow our hearts.

"All this and more is being celebrated tonight at the AFRA Awards. I would like to wish all the nominees many congratulations and sincere thanks for your outstanding contribution to British food and drink.

MESSAGE FROM THE ACTING HIGH COMMISSIONER OF SRI LANKA TO THE UNITED KINGDOM

It gives me great pleasure to issue this message of congratulations on the occasion of the 'Asian Food & Restaurant Awards (AFRA) – 2018' scheduled to be held in London. I understand that the Asian Food and Restaurant Awards was created to recognize the achievements and positive contribution made by South Asians, living in the UK, across the food industry.

The flavours of Asia reached Europe many centuries back when Asian spices were brought to Europe by the traders who traded goods through the silk route. Asian cuisines are popular in the UK, as well as many European countries. The large number of Asian restaurants and food outlets located in various parts of the country bear witness to this fact. The industry developed drastically in the 20th century with the immigration of Asians to the UK and has a promising future with demand from a multicultural clientele including a vast number of customers from the diaspora communities.

I see this awards ceremony as an initiative to recognize and motivate the businesses which drive the South Asian food chains in the UK, and an opportunity to promote Asian cuisine among those residing in Britain.

I wish the organizers of AFRA all the very best in their future endeavours.

Congratulations to everyone here today, especially those that have won awards, but my special thanks goes to Mr Haq and the rest of his team who have organised this fantastic event. It is so important that we are able to come together and celebrate the role that Asian restaurants and their food plays in Britain. Not only is the country's favourite dish the Chicken Korma, but the sector brings thousands of jobs and millions of pounds to the British economy. Today we are recognising those who have made a truly special contribution to this sector and we are thanking them for their hard work. I am pleased to be here as part of this celebration and proud of everyone for what they have done.

Rt. Hon. Afzal Khan MP
Shadow Deputy Leader of Parliament

I am very pleased for Asian Food & Restaurant Award is happening in London. Being a part Asian Community is also a matter of pleasure for me as the community is playing an integral role in the prosperity of the Great Britain. Participation of Asian community towards the industry for food is commendable. There has been a great participation of Asian Community associated with the Food industry; the waiters, the chefs, the owners, who bring us Asian curry, spicy food, delicious food and unique dishes. Along with this I am very thankful to Labour Party, since this is the only party for opening gates to Asian Community to specially participate in the food industry. This is the core reason of prosperity of Asian Community in the food industry. I would like to congratulate and recognize the efforts of Mr. Haq and the entire team for conducting the Asian Food and Restaurants Award and expect our community to come up with such events that not only bring us together, but highlight our brighter image.

6th AFRA Lifetime Achievement Award 2021

AFRA 2021

Mehboob Hussain

Royal Nawaab's Halal open-dining restaurants in Manchester and London have been serving up some of the finest Asian cuisine since 2002. But who is the man behind the magic?

Mr. Mahboob Hussain is the founder of the Nawaab name, with a long history of successful Asian/Indian restaurants. After moving to the UK in 1969 at the age of 15, Mahboob Hussain worked up through the ranks at a Textile factory in Yorkshire, from an apprentice, to supervisor, to the General Manager in charge of 1,400 members of staff. (From child labour to general manager of the textile mill) After the textile factory moved to South Korea in 1985, Mahboob decided to follow his love for cooking.

In 1986 opening his first ever Nawaab restaurant in Bradford a year later. The restaurant was so popular it was awarded for its excellence in 1990, winning best restaurant of the year. Mahboob was central to the business' success, working alongside his chefs to create award winning dishes, such as the Nirali special.

The success of the Bradford restaurant lead Mahboob to open a second Nawaab restaurant in Huddersfield. Soon after that, Nawaab opened their first restaurant in Manchester. Nawaab was so popular that soon, branches were popping up everywhere: 5 restaurants were opened in Spain in an attempt to break into different markets.

All the success couldn't slow Mahboob Hussain down. In 1999 he had the vision for a new way of eating: a live Asian cooking buffet and banqueting suite on a grand scale, which opened its doors to the public in 2003 and the likes of which was unheard of at the time in the UK.

Mahboob rebranded his two existing restaurants in Manchester and London as 'Royal Nawaab' in 2001 & 2014 and East London opening early 2022.

Since April 2017, businesses operating under the name Royal Nawaab.

Royal Nawaab has two locations; Manchester and London. Royal Nawaab maintains the quality that has made it famous around the UK.
